Dear Attorney General Ashcroft,

We feel that enough tax money has been spent trying to ruin Microsoft. The competitors who initiated the action are jealous of Microsoft's ability to produce software which is good for the consumer and have tried to get "a piece of the action." The Clinton DOJ was more than willing to pursue a successful company in order to cater to the contributors to their party.

We feel that Microsoft should never have been prosecuted in the first place and thus should be left alone now. The sooner, the better.

Thank you for your consideration.
